

THE WILD MAN OF CAMAS.

Killing of a Strange and Dreaded Creature in Idaho.

Bellevue Sun.

The celebrated wild man of the Camas prairie was killed recently by some parties traveling through the prairie. While the travelers were camped in the foothills on the edge of the prairie one of them, named Micklehaney went a few hundred yards from camp to kill some ducks, taking with him a shotgun loaded with large shot. When only a couple of hundred yards from camp the "Wild Man of Camas" jumped up from his hiding place, and, after running a short distance, stopped and looked at Micklehaney through his large, clear eyes a moment, then, with a shriek that struck terror to the hunter, and caused him to shudder as the echo resounded through the forest the man, with the ferocity of a savage beast of the jungle, made for Micklehaney so fiercely that in order to insure his own safety he emptied both barrels of the gun into him, when he fell, apparently dead. Micklehaney went to him, when the strange being began to revive, and he put his foot on the man's neck and called to his comrades to bring an ax, which they did with all possible haste. The man escaped just as they arrived, and with a pitiful moan regained his feet and started to run. The ax was thrown at him, and as he turned his head to look back it struck him in the center of the forehead and he dropped lifeless to the ground.

On examination he was found to be rather tall, with full, clear eyes, and an extraordinarily large head; appeared to be about forty-five years of age, although not a gray hair could be seen. The wavy black hair of his head hung low down, onto his body, and his bushy beard was about two and a half feet long. The body was also covered with a thick growth of hair about two inches in length. This was also black and very fine. The finger and toe nails were two inches long, and resembled claws more than nails. He was wrapped in a long robe made of rabbit skins. The skins were sewed together by sinews. On examining the place from which he made his appearance it was found that he had a very comfortable bed which was made of the soft bark of sage brush. It was under an over-hanging rock, and well protected from the wind. Near the bed were two rabbits which had most likely been killed by stones.

About ten years ago an insane stage driver left Boise City and has never since been heard of. The "Wild Man of Camas" may be the same, having taken up his abode in the then desolate prairie, but seldom visited by whites. The "Wild man of Camas, has, since first seen in 1873, been dreaded by the lonely traveler and prospector, who will be relieved to know that he is dead.

A fool-hardy sailor, who put to sea from San Francisco August 19, in an 18-foot dory, for Australia, was picked up by a coaster off Queensland, in an exhausted condition. He had lost his instruments and provisions by the capsizing of his boat.

The French Ministry of Marine are having forty-six vessels constructed at the present moment, thirty one in the Government dock-yards and fifteen by private firms. Fourteen of these vessels are ironclads, representing a value of 126,000,000 francs. Two, the Admiral Bandin and the Formidable, will cost 11,500,000 francs each. Eight others will cost each more than three-quarters of that sum.

The same jealousy and ill feeling exists between native and foreign laborers in Germany as in other countries. A number of Italian workmen have been employed upon buildings in the neighborhood of Cologne. One evening while they were in their quarters occupied with preparations for supper a large number of native laborers entered the place, uncovered the kettles, and spat in the food. A fight resulted in which the Italians were badly injured. The Germans used knives and axes, crushed the skull of one of the Italians, mangled the leg of another so that it had to be amputated, and inflicted severe injuries upon the rest. The Italian workmen who were thus maltreated are described as industrious, sober and frugal, and were in the habit of sending regular remittances from their small earnings to their families at home.

NOTICE.

IT having been asserted that I am preparing to move to the country and give up my interest in the Sewing Machine business, I take this method of announcing to my friends and the public that there is not a word of truth in it except that I will move my family to the country but will continue to sell the OLD RELIABLE SINGER at the same place, second street, opposite postoffice, and run my wagons in the country as heretofore. Competitors please notice the above. I am thankful to the public for the large patronage I have received for the past nine years, and respectfully solicit a share in the future.
